

Life as an Alumna

What happens when you become alumnae?

The sisterhood and work of alpha Kappa Delta Phi Sorority, Inc. does not stop after your undergraduate life. It extends well beyond those four years of college, into the real world, your future, and your career. Our alumnae branch is continually increasing every year as sisters graduate from Rutgers University and head off into the real world as employees, employers, or graduate students. Because our alumnae network has increased to what it is now, sisters still in undergraduate school are able to use them as resources. Our alumnae are here for guidance, advising, as well as a resource to future jobs and internships. Our alumnae, and active sisters, hold significant statuses in many companies and areas of studies including, but not limited to

Johnson and Johnson
Saks Fifth Avenue
Hyatt Corporation
Bloomingdale's Incorporated
L'Oréal Group International
Citigroup
QTI/Intertek
Merrill Lynch
Morgan Stanley
CVS/Caremark
Lehman Brothers Holdings
Schering-Plough Corporation
Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center

You can visit our aKDPHi National Alumnae Website at: www.akdphinolealums.com/akdfalum/