

alpha Kappa Delta Phi Sorority, Inc.

What is aKDPi without sisterhood? What is SORORITY life without sisterhood? The answer is nothing.

Sisterhood is the foundation with which we have built our chapter on.

For all of us, alpha Kappa Delta Phi has become our second home and it is because of that bond, that we can call ourselves a genuine sisterhood.

Every minute spent together, whether working, in business, or hanging out, is just another chance for us to grow closer. Separate from our everyday lives, we host a variety of sisterhood events to set aside time to just spend time with one another without thinking about the stresses of school and studying.

There are currently 11 chapters within the North East Region.

During the course of one school year, we hold a variety of annual sisterhood retreats and conferences where everybody in the region gathers together for a weekend of activities and fun.

Our annual Fall and Spring events are known as the North East Sisterhood Rally and North East Sisterhood Conference, respectively, and are hosted by different chapters every semester. Regionally, sisters attend one another's sisterhood, service, cultural, and academic events on a monthly basis. It is not unusual for our chapter to road trip five or six more times, apart from our annual events, to member chapters across the North East region. Likewise, we host fellow aKDPhi chapters at Rutgers very often.

There are currently 47 chapters nationwide and now international, stretching from the West Coast, South West, Mid West and across to the East Coast &ndash; making us the largest and most geographically diversified Asian American sorority nationally.

One of the greatest part about being an aKDPhi sister is being able to visit other cities and states and know that you will be taken care of by your fellow sisters there.

During Memorial Weekend of every year, aKDPhi hosts our annual convention held at a different chapter.

2005 was hosted by Houston, TX, 2006 was hosted in Irvine, CA, and 2007 was hosted in San Jose, CA.

Apart from our annual convention, there are other annual events that are hosted throughout the nation that we take part in. As sisters of this sorority, we are so proud and honored to be a part of such a time old tradition and sorority as alpha Kappa Delta Phi. The opportunities for networking and friendships are endless.
